Pasadena Mental Health Center

Strengthening Families in Crisis

“Life can turn in an instant. It did for us when my husband, Jason, and I both lost our jobs. A few months later my mother died unexpectedly. It was hard on all of us, especially our two young children. We turned to PMHC for counseling and support. We feel so lucky to live in a community with this kind of mental health resource.”

Foster Care and Adoption

Building Permanent Families

“Isabelle became a ward of the state at age seven and endured multiple foster care placements and significant trauma. I was her court appointed advocate, and my husband and I decided we wanted Isabelle to be part of our family. The Five Acres team walked us through each step, during the process and even after the adoption.”

Residential Treatment Center

Healing Vulnerable Children

“José was just eight years old when he was taken from our daughter and son-in-law due to abuse and neglect. Five Acres gave José a place to live, food and clothing, lots of therapy and medical care. They helped my husband and me get legal custody of our grandson. It took many months, but we are finally all together.”

Therapeutic School

Engaging Special Students

“We didn’t know where else to turn. None of the schools we visited seemed like they would meet Sam’s special needs. Then we discovered Five Acres. Since starting the Therapeutic School, Sam’s outlook has steadily improved. He now feels good about himself and his ability to learn.”
